Suddenly In Command

Module Cost $199

This 4-hour boating safety primer is designed for those not generally at the helm. It will prepare you to deal with the basics of communication, navigation and boat operation in case YOU are suddenly in command.

You will learn how to operate the VHF radio, call for help, and relay your coordinates. You will be taught basic vessel operation from engine restart to getting underway and finally how to navigate to harbor and dock safety.

Misfortune can happen at any time, take the time to prepare now for that moment. You will be grateful that you knew exactly what to do because you were trained and prepared.
